説明

As noted in help forum "(textile syntax) Multiple lines in table cell":/boards/2/topics/show/2400#message-2495, I also miss table cell with multiple line text.

+-----+-----+
| redmine | Multiple projects support |
|         | Flexible role based access control.|
|         | Flexible issue tracking system |
|         | Gantt chart and calendar |
|         | News, documents & files management |
|         | etc. |
+-----+-----+

If I want to make above table using textile wiki.

The syntax below would match the expected (using <http://www.textism.com/tools/textile/index.php>).

| redmine | Multiple projects support
Flexible role based access control.
Flexible issue tracking system
Gantt chart and calendar
News, documents & files management
etc.|

But it doesn't match in redmine.

I must use rowspan '/6.' to make this looks as expected. It is very inconvenient for a very complex table.

I hope redmine experts to check. (I'm total stranger to ruby or rails) wrong link posted.

source:trunk/lib/redmine/wiki_formatting/textile/formatter.rb@2018#L43 is correct for a couple of check, this patch breaks quote syntax like below.:(

> this is quote
>> this is double.
```

We are affected by that too. After a migration from 0.7 to 0.8.1, a lot of tables are broken, because the newline is not handled correctly. Additionally all control commands within the cell are ignored, besides some simple bold/italic commands. So applying plain-html did not work either.

same for me

Fixed in r2824.
