説明

It'd be nice if Redmine's issue filters included some notion of issue relations. That way you could build a query like so:

- Status is open
- Assigned to me
- Start is less than 0 days ago
- Has no blocking issues
- Has no preceeding issues

Doesn't look trivial, but shouldn't be too difficult. Looking into it now...

Attached is a work in progress. Shouldn't too difficult to attach the necessary filters. The only concern I have is that when looking for blocking issues, we want generally want open blocking issues. That's a fair number of subselect statements to get working. Could be unrealistically inefficient. :(

Second prototype. Doesn't allow the selection of how many just yet (currently hardcoded to 1 or more), but it's working.

Okay, this seems to work and I'm happy with it. Could someone else take a look and provide feedback as necessary?

Eep. Obviously the .project file wasn't meant to be included.

I tested the current implementation. Seems to work as expected. Maybe this one could be closed. :-)
