Hi

This is a minor issue..

If you go to:
http://redmine/custom_fields?tab=TimeEntryCustomField

It is possible to rearrange the order of custom fields.

I have two custom fields which relate to time ("hours out of the total spent on transport", and "hours out of the total spent outside regular hours" for what it's worth, names are shorter of course). It is very silly that these two time fields are at the very bottom when entering time, instead of being right next to the built-in time field (in use as the "total time").

It would be very nice if built-in fields could be shown via the above URL, along with the normal up/down ordering buttons (but no "DELETE" button), so that fully customizable ordering would be possible.
