説明

We work with Redmine using big workflows (many status appear in workflow matrix) and it's very difficult to follow all changes. Maybe you can add a tooltip for each check in matrix containing status references (left one and upper one).

Something like this

(left status on my row --- upper status on my column)

for each check button.

Positioning over it we'll can read easily wich transition is being selected.

Thanks ;)

You may want to try redmine_information plugin :
http://www.r-labs.org/projects/rp-admin-reports/wiki/Redmine_Information_Plugin
It created pictures of transition graphs that it derives from workflow matrices.

P.S. Oops, I did not read well.

It's a help to fill in the matrix, not for seeing the workflow. When scroll it's not enough (up & left headers are out of the window), it's difficult to select the correct state.

Thanks

I have created a patch to add tooltip to table cells on workflow page.

!tooltip-fields-permissions.png!

Patch committed, thanks!
