説明

I have a custom field of type "user" with multiple values and I create a new issue with some selected users.
During a change of the issue I delete some selected users and this action were not journalized. The only change that i see is when I add some additional users.

See also the attached screenshot.

journals

+1 that I've got same issue on redmine-2.1

It seems that this problem was resolved with version 2.5.0
