説明

In an older version of Redmine I created some wiki-pages with a %-sign in the title. After I updated Redmine to version 2.4.1-stable I get the following error:

Bad Request

bad URI `'/projects/testproject/wiki/Blabla_Cr%C3%A8me_20%?parent=Wiki'.

WEBrick/1.3.1 (Ruby/2.0.0/2013-11-22) at rubyonrails:82

I can still open the page when I put '25' behind the %-sign in the URL:

This breaks: http://172.26.3.90:82/projects/testproject/wiki/Blabla_Cr%C3%A8me_20%?parent=Wiki

This works: http://172.26.3.90:82/projects/testproject/wiki/Blabla_Cr%C3%A8me_20%25?parent=Wiki

Can this be a URL-encoding bug in Redmine?

I reproduced the problem on the demo.redmine.org:

http://demo.redmine.org/projects/url-sign-test/wiki/Blablabla_cr%C3%A8me_20%?parent=Wiki

I've added a quick-fix to the application_helper.rb (around line 640) which fixes the biggest problem for now:

    case options[:wiki_links]
    when :local; "#{page.present? ? Wiki.titleize(page) : ".html" + (anchor.present? ? "#{anchor}" :
    when :anchor; "#{page.present? ? Wiki.titleize(page) : title}" + (anchor.present? ? "_#{anchor}" :

le wiki export
      wiki_page_id = page.present? ? Wiki.titleize(page) : nil

      # Added manually to quick-fix the following defect: http://www.redmine.org/issues/15885
      wiki_page_id.gsub!('%','%25')

      url_for(:only_path => only_path, :controller => 'wiki', :action => 'show', :project_id => link_pr
      :id => wiki_page_id, :version => nil, :anchor => anchor, :parent => parent)

This (wiki_page_id.gsub!('%','%25')) works only for opening wiki-links containing a percent-sign in the URL:

[[Test 25%]]
