| 説明 Currently the redmine "help" menu redirects to redmine.org. What I'd like to see is a real help menu within the actual site. Also, there should be a way for plugins to add their own help files under the help menu. So when you hover over the help menu you'll see Help --> Time Tracker --> Import Projects Any ideas on how we can accomplish this? | |
| journals You can render hidden partial by base layout hook, and then show it by hover on help link | |
