説明

We use projects as templates for new projects, new projects are created by copying the template project. Some times the copy terminates but it takes very long > 6 hours blocking Redmine for other updates. Usually the copy fails without copying any issues. Our project is not extremely big about 5000-6000 issues with relations and attached files.

We can copy using export/import losing the attached files.

Is this a bug?

Thank you for a great product.
Regards
